Oklahoma City, June 3.—Marshal law will be lifted in Tulsa this afternoon, it was announced at the office of Governor Robertson shortly before noon. The announcement said the governor had not fixed the exact time, but that it would be before noon.

NEGRO LEADERS SAY IRRESPONSIBLE BLACKS TO BLAME

Tulsa, June 3.—Oklahoma National guardsmen in control of Tulsa city and county since Wednesday morning when they restored order after several hours of race rioting and incendiarism which cost thirty lives and property loss of one million five hundred thousand dollars, will be withdrawn late today, unless some untoward incident makes their retention here necessary. Work of relief and rehabilitation and of investigation of the outbreak will be left to regularly constituted local officers and a special committee of seven civic leaders.

Definite plans for alleviation of the immediate suffering of the thousands of negroes rendered homeless by the torching of their homes had taken shape today and the special committee looked into plans for fixing the responsibility for the outbreak and bringing the ring leaders to punishment.

At the same time rumors that radical leaders among the negroes, some being the worst element and some intelligent leaders, caused the riot, began to take tangible form with the statements of O. W. Gurley, one of Tulsa's wealthiest negroes, J. M. Adkinson, police commissioner and Barney C. Leaver, wealthy negro peace officer. The combined statements of the three men tend to indicate that for some time negroes had been preparing for race trouble, and that the first shot at the county building Tuesday night, when white men who planned to take from jail Dick Roland, 19 year old hood black charged with attacking a white woman, was fired by a crazed negro, who was known to the officers as a confirmed narcotic.

Whisky Extracted From Sealed Bottles; Water Substituted

New Orleans, June 3.—Government agents here today endeavored to determine how 2,400 quarts of whisky of a well-known brand was changed into water while being transported from a bonded warehouse to steamer for shipment to Central American countries.

Customs officials say the consignment was loaded on a truck and that a leakage in one bottle led to a closer scrutiny which revealed that the entire shipment was water not whisky.

Complaints from Latin-American countries came also that other shipments of water have led the agents to believe they are on the trail of a huge whisky conspiracy.

KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP ACQUIRE BUSINESS HERE

D. S. Henricks and E. R. Peterson Take Over New York Hardware Store; Take Possession Friday

Friday morning the New York hardware company located on the corner of Oklahoma and 2nd street in the headless building opened business under the management of Messrs D. S. Henricks and E. R. Peterson who purchased the store from Sam Morris and re-opened the doors after several days taking an invoice Henricks and Peterson are old citizens of Guthrie and need no introduction to the trade of Logan county. Both have been traveling for the Towler Metal and Hardware company of Kansas City and have made their home in Guthrie for over twenty years. Mr. Henricks will take charge of the business, while Mr. Peterson will still continue on the road.

The New York Hardware is the newer hardware store in Guthrie. It was started the first day in January, and a brick building was put up with a public hall above—Mundy's Hall—where the first dances were given and public gatherings took place. The building still stands in the north side of Oklahoma avenue, east of the Heid Wholesale Grocery company. A. O. Farquharson and Sam Morris bought Mundy out and ran the business for many years. Farquharson sold his half to Morris and embarked in the clothing business, and Morris ran it up to the time of his death. Don Morris succeeded his father, and the house has had a popularity in Logan county all these years. Its reputation like a gold dollar, is sound and stable. The present owners, being old experienced hands in the business, will still further spread its good reputation. They know Guthrie and believe in its future.

Children Taught Anarchy

New York, June 3.—Several documents taken from official Bolshevik publications, describing the conditions under which children are living in Russia under the Bolshevik regime are made public by A. J. Sack, Director of the Russian Information Bureau in the United States, representing in this country the Russian democratic anti-Bolshevik forces.

The Red Card Program

The Bolshevik program with regard to the children of Russia was formulated, according to Mr. Sack, by the Commissary Lillina at the Conference on Public Education held in Moscow. The official magazine of the Commissariat of Public Education, Narodnoye Prosvieshcheniye (Popular Education) No. 4, quotes Lillina as saying at this Conference:

"We have to create out of the young generation of Communists. We must make real, good Communists of the children, for they, like wax, are easily moulded. We must remove the children from the pernicious influence of the family. We must register the children, or, let us speak plainly, nationalize them. Thus they will from the very start remain under the beneficial influence of Communist kindergarten and schools. Here they will absorb the alphabet of Communism. Here they will grow up to be real Communists. The mother is to surrender her child to us, to the Soviet state, that is the practical task before us."

Thus Soviet institutions for children were established. The report of the Soviet inspection for February,

Millions Wasted In Strikes

St. Louis, Mo., June 3.—The productivity for more than 50 per cent of the work in industrial America, which is causing enormous annual losses to the nation, can be placed at the door of the masses, and not less than 25 per cent at the door of labor, declared a report of the American Engineering Council's committee on utilization of man at a meeting of the council's executive board. The committee was appointed by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce.

The report showed that the margin of unemployment, amounted to more than a million men; that billions of dollars were tied up in idle equipment; that high labor turnover was a rough index of one of the most serious wastes, and that waste of time and energy and money through duplications and redundancies and bids in building trades ran into millions annually.

Both employer and employee responsibility, it was said, both labor and capitalist are blamed for existing abuses, but the annual losses through waste by conflicts between them is much less than popularly supposed.

From four to five million workers were idle during January and February of this year. In 1921 half a billion dollars will be lost in wages in the building trades, it was said. Nationwide machinery to obtain continuing information concerning unemployment conditions throughout the country is declared necessary by the report.

Means for regulating employment in the principal industries were urged and a nationwide plan of co-operating between the government,

Ziegfeld Startles World; Chooses Flappers With Natural Complexions

"Never try to predict what Oklahoma weather or a woman will do next." This is one of the maxims of "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, "the Sage of Tishomingo," and perhaps Oklahoma's best known philosopher. And his mandate is accepted. For, many years ago—but not so many after all—the most popular type of feminine beauty was the "crinoline girl." She was a shy, blushing, sweet young thing, who wore pantalettes, hoop-skirts, and artificial daisies on her hat.

If you never gazed upon one of this species turn black the pages of your family album. You'll see them pictured in all their full blown glory. His Own Idea A slim young Russian walked the gay white way on Broadway, New York. His name was Florenze Ziegfeld, Jr. He had an idea all his own about the show he was starting. It was the first show in the world to put the emphasis on girls, girls, girls. He cared nothing for the plot of the show, little for the music, and little more for the principals of his cast—but the chorus, the girls, there he showed his mastery. He was a natural picker of "chickens." Broadway awoke from its bored indifference and rubbed its eyes. This was what it had been looking for. They invaded the sacred ranks of the Four Hundred by marriage. They did the same thing to stolid Wall street. They even broke into the royalty of European countries. And Flo's girls were not of the "crinoline" type. They were rouged, powdered, their eye-lashes were shaved, they were artificial hot-house beauties, even though most of them did come up from a ribbon counter in a department store, or from behind a cash register in a cafe. Took Country by Storm The result. The girl show took the country. And all the girls were of the artificial Dresden doll type. And enough of them married into the wealth and society to keep the advantages of rouge, powder and lip-sticks well before the eyes of all (Continued on Page 3)
