ROUNTS ROBBER WITH DOG AND HUSBAND'S REVOLVER

Mrs. John M. Stevenson, who lives in Cedar Grove, N. J., was in her home yesterday afternoon when her husband, John M. Stevenson, Jr., returned home. The man was carrying a dog in his hand and the dog growled at Mrs. Stevenson. The man then went into the house and closed the door behind him. Mrs. Stevenson then went into the kitchen and took out a rubber for her husband. She then went into the living room and sat down. She was just about to light a cigarette when she heard a noise coming from the kitchen. She went into the kitchen and found that her husband had been attacked by the dog. The dog had been attacking Mrs. Stevenson and had bitten her on the arm. The man had then left the house and she followed him. The dog had been left behind and she picked it up and brought it back to the house.

Find No Evidence of Neglect by Ship Captain in Sink- ing of 'Champion'

W. S. Damayan, manager of the Mount Morlatt in New York City, yesterday stated that he had no evidence to support the charges of neglect made by the Board of Trade in New York City against the captain of the 'Champion,' the ship that capsized last week. He said that the ship had been properly equipped and had no defects that would make it unsinkable. He also stated that the crew had been trained and were competent to handle the ship.

Some Very Refreshing Topcoats and Ulsters

Just Off Steamer

Still more English topcoats and ulsters arrived yesterday in the LON- DON SHOP to take the place of the many that have already left on the backs of pleased, proud customers. There will be no lack of anything to suit the most particular natures among the present stock, and no man can be successfully copied in a domestic fashion.

There are all kinds of models to pick and choose from, some have sold-out, others none of them, but they all have that indescribable smoothness and swing that a man can wear with more confidence and some never before seen, and some never been successfully copied in a domestic fashion.

The following prices are:

$99.00, $95.00, $90.00, $85.00 and $80.00.

A new form of the STEAMSHIP LINE now in the shop, which will be a great attraction, is the "STEAMSHIP LINE STEAMSHIP," a new model that is in great demand. It is made of the best English materials and is a great improvement in the line of steamship coats.

The following prices are:

$90.00, $85.00, $80.00, $75.00 and $70.00.
