A STRATEGIC DECISION

The Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce has wisely regulated its course thus far with the movement begun in Cincinnati to present organized opposition to the United States Grain Growers, the group taken by the movement in market agricultural products through a farmers' cooperative agency.

THE BABIES

I read their little faces, Watch the sparkle of their eyes— Search for future traces For indices that in them lie.

Bless the little darlings, Bless the babes with all my heart; They are the little starlings From which we all doth start.

Take them up most sweetly, As every Grandma could; Twine their hearts completely With yours as Grandmas should.

Take the vine with its tendrils That cling to the old oak tree, Let these rosbuds be the stencils To mark the life of maternity.

If all life were as tender As these little darlings be, What a life we could tender To the land beyond the sea.

But our sordid beings Crush us all with hate and pain— Together with false feelings That spend our lives in vain.

DEMPESEY GETS MANY LETTERS FROM GIRLS

Five Hundred in a Day From Silly Chickens Annoy the World's Heavyweight Champ

Los Angeles, Cal., July 22.—Jack Dempsey gets 500 letters a day, mostly from women, at which he never looks, he said in a statement today commenting on testimony in a divorce action at Pawhuska, Okla., concerning letters which Mrs. Helen Boulanger said she had written to the heavyweight champion.

"We get hundreds of letters, telling how beautiful the women writers are, and everything, but we don't pay any attention to them unless they ask for a picture, and then sometimes we send a picture," said Teddy Hayes, who is handling Dempsey's interests here. "If this woman ever wrote letter, and didn't ask for a picture, it went right into the waste basket, and Jack didn't know about it any more than about the hundreds we throw away every day."

MARKETS

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago—Big receipts, together with indications that the movement from rural sources would remain heavy for some time have pulled down values in the wheat market this week. Prices this morning compared with a week ago showed a fall of 6 1/4 to 9c a bushel. Corn was 1/2c off to 3/4c up; oats unchanged to 3/4c to 3/8c lower and provisions varying from 3/8c decline to 10c advance.

LIBERAL SHIPMENTS FROM HERE, TOGETHER WITH SOME DRY WEATHER COMPLAINTS STABILIZED THE CORN MARKET.

Oats were eased a little by movement of the new crop. German buying of hard strengthened that commodity, but meats averaged lower in the absence of any special demand.
